FINANCE WOES GROW; COUNTY LOSES $34,109

Assembly Fails to Earmark
Funds from Beer, Malt,
Wort Taxes

MONEY GOES INTO STATE'S COFFERS

Commissioners May Call
General Meeting to Consider Situation

LISBON, Nov. 13.—Added to the financial woes of the Columbiana county commissioners was today's announcement by the office of State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson that the county would lose approximately $34,109 next year for poor relief needs.

The 94th general assembly, the auditor explained, failed to "earmark" or re-allocate revenue from the beer, malt, wort and admissions taxes and the money which heretofore has gone to the counties for poor relief would accrue to the state's general operating fund.

Effective Jan. 1, 1942, the taxes will mean an extra three million dollars for the state. The counties have shared in the distribution for the past six years.

In addition to the "loss" of the $34,109, Columbiana county commissioners must pay a $34,350 poor relief note March 1, 1942, the balance of $109,000 in poor relief notes which were sold in October of 1938 in anticipation of the collection of the above-mentioned taxes.

The commissioners indicated today that they would call a meeting sometime next week to discuss the county's financial predicament and to lay plans for a special election to which failed to pass at the recent general election.

All county officials and representatives of organizations in the county will be invited.

CANTON NAVAL STRIKE ENDED

Machine Erectors Return to Jobs, Ravenna Walkout Postponed

(By Associated Press)
A settlement whose terms were undisclosed sent striking machine-erectors back to their jobs today in the Canton naval ordnance plant and at Ravenna the army's $57,000,000 shell-loading plant was back on normal schedule, a strike by members of four unions postponed for six days.

Local No. 812 of the International Association of Machinists (AFL) started the Canton strike yesterday, claiming the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co. operator of the $20,000,000 works, had refused their demands that seven CIO members be discharged. The AFL members declared the CIO men were organizers.

The strikers were installation men, and when they established a picket line approximately 450 production workers were made idle as members of local No. 804 of the same union refused to pass the line, as did AFL construction workers.

The production workers' local presented arguments yesterday before Josef Hektoen of Washington, trial examiner for the national labor relations board, in support of its petition for certification as bargaining agent for the machine operators at the plant. Operations now are at about 15 per cent of capacity, and will require 2,000 production workers by next spring.

BI-PARTISAN APPEAL MADE ON SHIP ARMS

"Sitting On Dynamite, Yet
We Quibble", Asserts
Woodrum

"UNSHACKLE" U. S. IS PLEA OF GIFFORD

Tension Mounts As Voting
On Neutrality Revision Nears

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Despite defections from administration ranks, the house heard a bi-partisan appeal today for revision of the neutrality act, with Representative Woodrum (D-Va.) asserting that "we are sitting on a keg of dynamite and yet we quibble."

Amid mounting tension as the voting hour approached, Speaker Rayburn predicted the chamber would give a majority to the senate-approved measure permitting American merchant vessels to carry arms and sail anywhere in the world.

Leaves Hospital Bed
Woodrum, who left a hospital bed to attend today's momentous session, referred pointedly to southern Democrats who announced yesterday they would oppose the legislation because the administration had failed to take "strong action" to curb defense strikes.

Such a view point, Woodrum declared, represented a desire to "spank" President Roosevelt for something he had or had not done. The Virginian asserted that defeat of the legislation would make the nation's highest leaders "heavy-hearted", and added that it would be the occasion for "extra" editions of Berlin papers.

Rep. Gifford (R-Mass.) appealed for approval of the legislation to "unshackle" America and permit it to act as it pleased and to make certain that we "do not give aid and comfort to the enemy."

Meanwhile, administration leaders worked feverishly behind the scenes in order to recruit as many votes as possible for the legislation for many of them conceded the result was still "dangerously close." Declines Estimates

While saying that "we have enough votes," Rayburn declined to estimate specifically what the margin would be.

A "photo finish," concluded Rep. McCormack (Mass.) the house majority leader. Republican opponents, reinforced by disaffected Democrats, were openly optimistic. "We have this bill licked," they claimed. Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) still insisted, however, that when the final roll call came, the house would approve the senate revision amendment allowing American merchantmen to go to belligerent ports and operate in combat zones.

TRUCK OVERTURNS ON BENTON ROAD

No one was injured when a truck overturned on the Benton road, a mile and a half northwest of Salem at 3:20 p. m. Wednesday, after colliding with another vehicle, state highway patrolmen said.

The truck, driven by Alex Finckel, 41, of Chicago, was in the act of passing a machine operated by James Strawn, 57, of Radford, Va., when Strawn started to make a left turn from the highway.

The truck upset in the middle of the road when the driver swerved sharply to avoid hitting the car. Strawn's machine received a dented left rear fender. One side of truck which was loaded with miscellaneous freight, was damaged.

BEAT HITLER, FARMERS TOLD

Must Risk Overproduction
To Aid Defense, Wickard Tells Grange

(By Associated Press)
WORCESTER, Mass., Nov. 13.—Secretary of Agriculture Wickard declared today that the "adequate defense of America means nothing less than the defeat of Hitler."

Therefore, he told the nation's farmers, they must run the risks of overproduction in the interests of national defense.

The cabinet member also served notice that the United States was ready to show its "force" in both oceans, if necessary, should the country's interests be menaced.

Time Is Vital Factor

In an address prepared for the 75th anniversary meeting of the national grange, Wickard said that Hitler "can be defeated only by a superior force of materials and men. The men are there today, in Russia, in China, in England. Our greatest need is to get materials to these men and get them there fast enough. Our production is too little and too late. It may be too late for us to hope for freedom in our generation."

Grange leaders, asserting that improved prices had not solved the farm problem, called for legislation which would offer farmers "something better and more respectable than government gratuities and subsidies."

Head Or Heart--Which Shall Rule In War? Writer's Query

Sympathizes With Finns, But Stresses That Allies' Cause
Is Also Cause of America

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Special News Service)

The refusal of little Finland to heed America's warning that she stop fighting mighty Russia raises the issue of whether our efforts to aid the Allies shall be governed by our hearts or by our heads.

We have a similar problem, from the standpoint of hearts versus heads, in former President Hoover's renewed appeal that we feed Europe's starving children.

The fundamental question, of course, is what is the right and the wrong in these cases. Unfortunately we can't base our decisions solely on the individual cases. Many individual tragedies must be endured in order that a broader justice, affecting all mankind, may be achieved.

Take the case of the Finns. Mr. Hoover also intervened on their behalf and in a protest against the attitude of the United States government he said:

"Only two years ago this peaceful little nation was outrageously attacked by Communist Russia. Our while country heralded Finland's resistance as the most heroic stand of democracy since Thermopylae. Has America lost all sense of human and moral proportions?"

Well, there's no question that the heart of America was with the tiny David of the north in the conflict with Goliath. But now we have a new set of circumstances to consider.

America's attitude may seem tough on the Finns, but we have to think whether it would be tougher on the world at large if Finland's war-making should result in Russia's downfall. Maintenance of the Soviet as became vital to the Allied cause.

The Finns are shooting at Russia's vital. Their efforts endanger the safety of Leningrad, one of the Soviet's greatest industrial centers, the gateway to the Baltic.

So the problem ceases to be one relating solely to Finland's welfare. The whole Allied cause is endangered—and what are you going to do about that?

REJECT RAIL PAY PROPOSAL

Emergency Board Recommends
Spurned by Non-Operators

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Fourteen unions of non-operating employees, representing 900,000 workers in the railroad industry, issued a joint statement today rejecting the recommendations of the President's emergency board for settlement of their wage dispute.

The statement did not contain a direct threat of a strike, although non-operating employees authorized their leaders last Sept. 5 to call one, and the five big operating brotherhoods have ordered a walkout to begin Dec. 7.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Two conferences in Washington tomorrow—one at the White House and the other in the headquarters of the CIO United Mine Workers—a few blocks away—probably will determine whether the captive coal mines will be closed by a strike which President Roosevelt has said must not occur.

At 10 a. m. 200 members of the mine workers policy committee, called together from various parts of the country, are scheduled to sit down with John L. Lewis, UMW president.

At 11 a. m. Lewis and two other CIO leaders—President Philip Murray and Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the UMW—will go to the White House at the invitation of President Roosevelt. Three steel company officials will be there—Frank Purnell of Youngstown Sheet and Tube, Benjamin Fairless of U. S. steel, and Eugene Grace of Bethlehem.

FIRE MARSHAL TO COOPERATE IN EMERGENCY

But Orders Fire and Police
Officials to Get New Quarters

OTHER OFFICES STAY TEMPORARILY

City Solicitor Reports On Meeting With Marshal
At Columbus

State Fire Marshall Ray R. Gill will be lenient with Salem city officials in his order to have the condemned city hall torn down, but has decreed that the fire and police departments, and jail, must be moved to new locations as soon as possible.

Other city hall officers may remain situated in the building until such time as final action is taken on the razing of the historic old structure.

This was the tenor of City Solicitor Henry L. Reese's report to council last night, at a committee caucus, of his conference at Columbus yesterday with the state fire marshal.

Agreed that Gill "means business," a committee of council was out today seeking to rent temporary headquarters for the police and fire departments.

Councilmen C. F. Zimmerman and Harry Vincent were named by Council President Charles Cornwall to talk with Fire Chief Vincent L. Malloy and Police Chief Ralph Stoffer regarding the selection of temporary quarters.

Solicitor Reese said the state fire marshal would not hold the city to its 30-day removal edict but would be willing to cooperate with council in its attempts to have the present structure torn down and a new city hall erected.

Gill explained, however, that the fire department and jail must be moved from the building.

Should a fire strike at the city hall and the fire-fighting equipment stored there be damaged or lost, the fire might sweep through an entire section of the city, the state fire marshal warned Reese.

Under the law, Gill explained that he must condemn the jail from the standpoint of existing fire hazards and because of insanitary conditions.

Also present at last night's committee session was City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff, who was instructed to call a week ago to prepare plans and estimates on a proposed new city hall.

Council's regular meeting will be held next Tuesday when the city hall situation is expected to be discussed further with probable reference to a special election when the public could vote on a bond issue to raise funds for a new building.

Salem voters about five years ago turned down a city hall bond issue at a time when the federal government was willing to pay 55 per cent of the total cost.

CART AND HORSE PROPOSITION

Perhaps the public is not being let in on the deep stuff behind scenes, but it is beginning to be troubled about the relation between higher taxes to absorb consumer purchasing power and higher prices which already are beginning to do the job.

Specifically, consumers are worried because the Roosevelt administration seems to be hammering harder at taxes than at price control measures, suggesting the possibility that taxes and prices may ascend together, instead of the latter being checked to make larger tax payments possible.

The prospect is particularly bleak for all persons on salary. Their consumer purchasing power, contrary to the government's credo, has not been rising; it has been diminishing in direct ratio to the rise of prices. Faced with greatly increased income and excise taxes, such persons cannot help but feel that President Roosevelt and Treasury Secretary Morgenthau are putting the cart before the horse when they talk about the necessity of boosting taxes without talking at the same time about the necessity of doing something to hold down prices.

Rising prices are an immediate problem being grappled with by every individual and every family in the United States. Rising taxes, except for the excise taxes already being collected, are a problem of tomorrow and the next day and the day after that. In the order of importance, therefore, higher prices get first call on popular attention. It is a widespread feeling that they also should have first call on executive and legislative attention.

MORAL TURPITUDE IN THE SENATE

Moral turpitude, the $15 version of several less technical insulting an individual, is stalking the United States senate in the case of William Langer, elected to that august body Nov. 5, 1940, from the great state of North Dakota. As governor of the state, he was removed from office by the North Dakota supreme court in 1934. He became governor again in 1937 and served until 1939. In a word, Mr. Langer is what political doers customarily describe as a stormy petrel. A lot of people back in North Dakota have declared open season on him for keeps.

His opponents never have called quits in their fight with him. The first charge, that he had won his seat through election irregularities, was thrown out by the senate committee on elections. But the committee thereupon voted to hold hearings on charges of moral turpitude, revolving around allegations that as a lawyer he had collected fees from clients, then abandoned their interests.

It may occasion surprise in some quarters to hear of a senator being tried for legislative fitness on his law practicing background, also to be reminded that the Constitution allows both houses of congress to be the sole judges of the qualifications of members, requiring a two-thirds vote to expel them. But that's the way things are. Sen. Langer is in a tough spot. It must have occurred to him to wonder how the late Huey Long ever got into the senate so easily when the boys are making it so tough for him.

NAZIS OR NOTHING

The use of fear psychology to spur Germans to greater efforts is demonstrated in the text of Dr. Goebbels' widely discussed message. The Nazi argument is simple: Either the Germans will win the war, or, losing it, Germany will be exterminated. Therefore, the Germans must win the war.

Perhaps this is the time to remember that the Nazis are not synonymous with Germany, but only a political party inside Germany, like the Communists in Russia, the Fascists in Italy and the Democrats and Republicans in the United States, with the exception that the American parties are not monopolies. Thus, it does not follow that Germany must do the bidding of the Nazis or go down to ruin and disgrace. If they had refused any time in the last seven years to obey the Nazis, or if they were to refuse now, the status of Germany as a combatant would become entirely different.

There is more than ordinary merit in the suggestion that a German government in exile be created in London as a rallying point for Germans who do not agree with Dr. Goebbels and the Nazis that Germany's sole hope of survival lies in conquest. It is too potent an argument for the Nazis to be permitted to use without a challenge.

MR. LEWIS AS COLLECTIVE BARGAINER

John L. Lewis hasn't survived in the particularly stony field where he has made a good living for so many years by letting himself be caught short. Reports to the contrary notwithstanding, it's unlikely that he has gambled everything on the long chance of establishing union shop conditions in the coal mines operated by the steel industry.

That cannot be done without the government's cooperation, and the adverse vote of the mediation board on the union shop proposal indicates that no government cooperation will be forthcoming. But unless collective bargaining has changed its formula, the union shop merely was the main thing Mr. Lewis wanted; he will settle for less than the original demand and more than the other side's original offer. That's why it is called bargaining.

By this time, Mr. Lewis realizes that the potent threat of stopping steel production by shutting off the industry's coal supply is a two-edged weapon. He can use it on the steel industry, the government and the public only at the expense of injury to himself and United Mine Workers.

Maybe Washington has an idea that the United States can play Santa Claus to Soviet Russia. But we've been wondering how much the Communist country really believes in a Santa Claus.

THE STARS SAY:

For Friday, November 14

ALTHOUGH there is portent of certain mixed and conflicting circumstances, yet the day may be memorable for the materialization of a long enduring benefit either in the nature of assured security, a stabilization of the fortunes or in the removal of an old stagnant or congested state of affairs. This may be definitely removed to make room for fine progress, probably coming as a reward for hard work.

Those whose birthday it is, although encountering some moments of annoyance and perhaps adversity, yet may expect a year memorable for the coming to a climax of some substantial rewards or recognition for past performances of soundness and merit. An old static condition may be dissipated, frozen assets may come to life, or old values in real investments may be enhanced. But be calm and moderate in all relations.

A child born on this day should have many sterling qualities with sound and constructive talents, which will win for it success and security against adverse and annoying situations or opposition.

Not being able to win a quick victory, the Germans are resigned to a hard winter ahead—and all the countries engaged in war are facing the same situation.

The notion that two can live cheaper than one was one of the earliest forms of propaganda and was probably started by someone selling supplies to newly-weds.

Some people are too stingy to be friends. They won't even give you a little lie about how well you're looking.

In the event that America is to become an isolated island, we may as well begin picking out 10 favorite books.

Headlines in one of our exchanges say: "Stimson O. K.'s Bill To Raise Army Pay." The boys in the trenches will be heartened.

FURTHER FACTS ABOUT VITAMINS

Research Unearths Additional Information

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

The vitamins certainly justify their name in making news in the medical world. They are a very vital subject. Research is going on all the time. Today I picked up an article placed in my files in 1939 and found it was completely out of date.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

This is a good thing too. We need to know a lot more than we do about the vitamins, both to help ourselves to live scientifically and to save ourselves from unwarranted enthusiasms.

In reading about the vitamins or listening to your friends recite their experiences with them, there is one distinction or standard of judgment you can set up that I think will help. This is to differentiate between the use of the vitamins as having replacement action or pharmacological action. In other words, are they being used as foods or drugs?

When they were first discovered, it was considered that their usefulness was confined to instances when people on inadequate diets developed conditions such as scurvy, skin, sore tongue, rickets, scurvy and neuritis, which were cured by replacing the missing vitamins in the diet.

Pharmacologic Actions

Then it was found that certain of these vitamins had pharmacologic actions. Thus Vitamin B, if deficient in the diet, brings on neuritis. But even when the diet is adequate in Vitamin B, large doses of it relieve neuritis. Just as some endocrine hormones—adrenalin and pituitrin—are used regularly in the body economy, but when used in large dosage an entirely exaggerated and different action is had. So when you hear about the vitamins, ask yourself whether they are being used as replacements or drugs.

The latest vitamin seems to be the gray hair preventive vitamin—para-aminobenzoic acid, part of the vitamin B complex. It is found in yeast, liver and molasses. It has been tried on patients between the ages of 21 and 51 and the gray hair returned to its original shade in about two months. This sounds too good to be true, and I predict disappointment from its use.

I saw Dr. Hubert Evans' gray rats who get that way from removing the vitamin from their diet, and reported them here two years ago. The conditions are not analogous to graying hair in humans.

More news comes from Mr. Bruce Bliven, who says that Hitler is withholding thiamine chloride (vitamin B1) from inhabitants of conquered countries because it is the "moral vitamin." Mr. Bliven and his science slay me. When I see an article by him on science, I prepare for a good laugh. See how mixed the thinking on the moral vitamin is? Vitamin is necessary to nerves—but just to ordinary nerves that carry impulses of sensation and motion. But, according to this new logic, "moral" is "nerve" when your morale is gone, your nerves are gone. So Vitamin B is the moral vitamin. But that kind of nerve is in your personality; it is not the same as nerve fibres.

Questions and Answers

C. R.: "Does a high nervous strain cause a fast heart beat, sometimes irregular? Would too much smoking cause this condition? Is a heart beat of 80 to 85 a serious matter?"

Answer: Nervous upsets of the heart are caused by emotional strain and tobacco. A constant pulse of 80 to 85 may come from nervousness or the thyroid gland. It should be investigated.

W. J. B.: "I have been informed that a person under any operation is required to have their appendix cut out and that is the law."

Answer: On the contrary, a surgeon should receive consent to remove an appendix incidentally in the course of an operation not designed for appendectomy alone.

SENATE STENOGRAPHER by MAXWELL THAYER

SYNOPSIS
Gale Holloway is hired as secretary by Senator Jeffrey Murray because she overhears him discussing secretly with legislative conferees a monopoly bill which a powerful lobbyist wishes to have passed. Later, at Mrs. Nan Parkson's home—a salon for the "money boys" in politics—she is bumped into a swimming pool by Marie Gibbins, who was discharged by Murray to make a job for Gale. She is rescued by handsome Joe Nash, Governor McKurt's secretary. In bed, awaiting the doctor, Gale is ministered to by Nan's maid, Little. The nurse to work and Murray finds her going through his confidential files for which he berates her. Marie Gibbins apologizes for Gale's accident but adds, caustically: "I can't imagine anyone who is rescued by a governor's secretary."

CHAPTER SIX
"Don't pay any attention to her," said Elaine, putting an arm around her friend's shoulder. "She didn't need the job with Murray. She came here to get a husband. She's a well fixed widow. And boy, she's a man crazy! She doesn't like your kind of competition either."

Gale thanked Elaine, said she must get back to the office and left. She went back to the office, lifted her hat to her head and said just saying to her reflection in the mirror: "Well, it was a good day while it lasted," when Murray's door opened and he came out.

"Where do you think you're going?" He was just as severe as before. "Why, why, I thought—" she turned toward him, tears not far from welling in her blue eyes. His expression changed as completely as a shadow passing before the sun. "Sit down. Perhaps we should have an understanding. I'll admit quite frankly that my nerves are overwrought. I'm sorry I was so abrupt."

She wanted to say that it was all right but her throat was too tight. "Gale Holloway, can I trust you?" He asked it simply as though he wanted the simple truth.

"Of course," said she, more by reflex than by choice. "Then I'll tell you something."

He hesitated and once again watched her face carefully. "I was worried when you found that file. In it is evidence against enemies of mine. That evidence helps keep them in line."

Gale said she understood and went on to explain how she had come across the file in the first place. He breathed a sigh; to Gale it seemed as if in relief.

"I know my child, and I hadn't been so upset. I wouldn't have thought anything of it."

He ended the conversation there with a simple statement that he supposed they had better get to work.

If he had had any doubt about her stenographic ability, they were dispelled that day. She took dictation quickly and accurately. He was highly pleased when they closed up shop for the night.

As she was about to leave, Murray asked her to telephone him at his apartment early that evening and gave her his private number.

Back at her hotel, Gale found a message from Joe, apologizing for not calling her earlier in the day, and promising to telephone her the next day at the office.

"That was sweet of him," she thought. And as she ate her dinner in a downtown restaurant, she thought of Joe Nash and wished she might see him that night.

From her hotel room, she called Senator Murray in response to his request and when he urged her to "come right out," she tried to beg off that she was tired, but when he became insistent, she agreed.

The senator was in high spirits and from his breath Gale knew the spirits were not all his own.

"Come," he said. "I want to show you something." He led her to the apartment adjoining his, took a key from his pocket, turned the lock, switched on the light and stood aside for her.

From room to room, he took her, showing everything off as though he were a salesman.

Gale was pleased with the place. It was cozy, not too large and not too small, just right for one person, like herself.

"It's fine, but I'm afraid I couldn't afford it," Gale said.

The senator was like a small boy with a new toy. "How do you like it?" he asked.

"It's fine, but I'm afraid I couldn't afford it," she said. "It's yours," he said.

"But I don't understand." And she didn't.

"I rented it for you."

"That's more than nice of you, Senator, but I couldn't think of accepting."

"Why not?" he asked, and while she sought for an easy answer, he hurried on: "You see, I have a great deal of important work to do. Many times I dictate speeches at night. Sometimes I want to get things down while they are fresh in my mind. That's why I thought it worth my while to rent this for you."

"I understand that part of it, Senator, and don't think I am unappreciative, but any time you have night work of that type, you can telephone me and I can come from my hotel. That seemed like a plausible answer to her. She didn't want to hurt his feelings.

"I hope you understand that this really is purely a selfish.... a.... er.... business gesture on my part and that I would expect nothing in return except.... well purely business work."

Gale was convinced. "If what you mean, senator, is that nothing goes with the apartment except the keys, I'll take them."

He dropped the keys with a jingle into her outstretched hand.

Gale returned to her hotel with her mind made up to move into her new apartment the next day, but she was still in some doubt as to the wisdom of such a move.

At the desk she was handed a message from Mrs. Parkson asking her to telephone, regardless of the time she arrived home.

Believing that it must be of some urgency, Gale telephoned only to learn that Nan was paying bridge, and wanted Gale to come out and fill in. Gale was tired and she said so. But Nan pleaded and finally said she was sending a car for her.

Enroute to Nan's home, Gale leaned back against the soft cushions of the big sedan and closed her eyes. Things were moving too fast for the small-town girl—jobs.

Book Review Features Leornians' Program

"The Last Frontier," fictional work of Howard Melvin East, based on actual events, was interestingly reviewed by Mrs. Holland W. Cameron for members of the Leornians club last night at the library.

The story of a band of some 300 Cheyenne Indians, worn out by unfair conditions at the reservation in Oklahoma, who set out in 1873 for their original home in the Powder River country, is dramatically and sympathetically told by the author who used historical facts for his book.

The program also included two piano solos "Impromptu" (Reinhold) and "The Rosary," played by Mrs. Theodore Jones.

Roll call, "New Books and Authors," was in charge of Mrs. Glenn Prounall, Mrs. William Miller and Mrs. Henry Reese.

Mrs. George Fox was welcomed as a new member of the club during the meeting when plans were made for the annual Christmas party and gift exchange Dec. 10.

The table where lunch was served was attractively arranged with a miniature altar banked with white mums and lighted by tiny white candles in bronze holders. The lighted candles formed an aisle to the altar for a miniature bride and groom. Small candles and holders were favors.

"Making of Salads" Discussed by Women

"Making of Salads" was discussed Tuesday, when Miss Alma Garvin, nutrition specialist, met with 25 extension leaders for the training meeting Miss Garvin demonstrated before the leaders different salads made from home-grown vegetables.

In addition to these, the leaders brought their favorite salads and told how they were made.

Miss Garvin stressed the fact that our diet today lacks calcium, iron and vitamins A, B and C. From eating more raw vegetables and fruits the nutrition specialist said that we would get some of the nutrients that are so essential for us to have.

Erma Ramseyer, home demonstration agent, says that these leaders will hold these nutrition meetings in their townships in the near future. All women interested in learning more about the making of salads are invited to attend.

The leaders who attended the meeting Tuesday are: Middleton township, Mrs. H. A. Thompson and Mrs. Clyde Welch; Hanover, Mrs. John Baker, Mrs. Ethel Tracy, Mrs. W. S. Leeper and Mrs. Garland Davis; Franklin, Mrs. Grace McKarns and Mrs. Elvy Thompson.

Mob Threatens Girl Slayer

Winford Smith with detectives

Fearing possible mob violence, sheriff's officers at Saginaw, Mich., removed Winford W. Smith, 35-year-old confessed slayer of Wanda May Wheatley, 20-year-old teletype operator, from Saginaw to the Flint, Mich., jail. Shortly after he was apprehended and had confessed, according to Sheriff Hugo A. Muehlenbeck, a crowd estimated at 200 gathered about the Saginaw jail, shouting, "We want Smith."

SEES AIR SPEEDS RAISED 200 M.P.H.

Lockheed Executive Says
Modern Progress Only
A Forerunner

LOS ANGELES—The sleek, twin-engined fighting planes rolling off American production lines today are the forerunners of future commercial airliners that eventually will fly from Los Angeles to London in 10 hours, according to Thomas A. Corpe, executive of the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation.

The airliners of the not-too-distant future, Corpe said, will fly non-stop from Los Angeles to New York in six hours and from Los Angeles to Honolulu in the same time.

The giant planes will be multi-motored luxury liners that will travel 100 miles, and possibly 200 miles an hour faster than present day transports, he predicted.

"The technological progress we are making," he said, "is bringing us very near to the production of commercial and private airplanes that will give us a new conception of time, space and distance."

Greater Things To Come
"As marvelous as have been the developments in aircraft production in the past few years, they are only the forerunners of the great things to come."

Corpe pointed out that the high speeds attained by today's military planes were unheard of 10 years ago and he disclosed that bombing planes are being built that are expected to exceed 400 miles an hour and will be capable of easily flying 30,000 feet.

Unlike most "predictors of things to come," Corpe has a concrete example of what the planes of tomorrow will be like. They will resemble a super-transport ship now being constructed.

The plane is the Lockheed Constellation, which the government has authorized the corporation to build because of its conversion value as a troop transport as well as a passenger craft.

Plane Has Pressure Cabin
The Constellation, Corpe reports, is a pressure cabin plane, whose landing gear folds into the wing and fuselage during flight. It is powered with four 2,200-horsepower engines and will have a top speed estimated at more than 350 miles an hour and a non-stop cruising range of at least 4,500 miles. It will fly during 1942.

"This plane marks the first attempt to combine speed and size and is the predecessor of greater planes in the future," Corpe said.

"Some day an automobile highway will be completed to South America, but long before that we will be flying from Los Angeles to Rio de Janeiro in the time it took to fly to New York a few years ago. Good neighbors will become close neighbors and continents and oceans will lose their vastness."

More Freight To Be Flown
"Departures of clipper ships will be stepped up in the future from one a week to one, two or three a day. Freight, as well as express, will be carried by air. In fact, a company already has been organized to handle nothing but air freight."

Corpe predicts that airplanes will permit the average man to live farther from his work, in communities not yet built, to roam farther during weekends and maintain closer contact with distant friends.

From Swings to Wings

Official motion pictures on the life and training at Kelly and Randolph fields, with one scene shown above, will be screened during a public aviation cadet program next Tuesday night in the Memorial building.

The lads providing the punch in the above picture are Robert (Booby) Taylor, left, and Guice Tudor, who used to be in quest of swings instead of "wings." Taylor was Golden Gloves champ of Kentucky, and Tudor, West Virginia state amateur champion. Before joining the Army's Aviation Cadets, the two combined to gain 45 knockouts in 62 bouts.

Claim Common Cold Can Be Wiped Out Through Purification of Indoor Air

(By International News Service)

CLEVELAND—By purifying indoor air, at a cost less than that of conducting a war, the common cold can be wiped out in the United States.

Evidence presented to the American Medical association, of experiments performed in the country proved the effectiveness of preventing cold through purification of indoor air.

On exhibit, prepared by Cradle, nursery for infants, at Evanston, Ill., had three units, all air conditioned, which demonstrated cold prevention. Besides, two of the units had separate safeguards; one was fitted with overhead ultra-violet lights, the other was composed of individual cubicles so that the nurse would not come in direct contact with the baby, but would handle it through a small window. These cubicles were fitted with positive-pressure air. The pressure inside is greater than that outside, so when opened, air would be kept out. All air entering the cubicles is warmed, is brought in from the outside and carries only the infections, if any floating normally in outdoor air and not from within the room.

Recently, when a cold epidemic struck the Cradle, 12 nurses were affected. None went home, however, but continued at their respective jobs. All babies, except one, in the room having only air conditioning caught colds. In the other room, with the ultra violet lights and the cubicles, not one baby caught a cold.

Doctors pointed out that indoor air can be purified sufficiently to prevent the colds inasmuch as outdoor air does not circulate colds. Indoor air is polluted with infection by common colds, they declared, but the infection appears to be diluted rapidly below the danger point.

BIGELOW UNHURT, RULES HIGH COURT

COLUMBUS, Nov. 13.—The Rev. Herbert S. Bigelow of Cincinnati, advocate of higher old age pensions, was not damaged by a statement that he was "the paid lobbyist of the single tax movement," the Ohio supreme court has decided.

The court affirmed a Lucas county common pleas court and dismissal of Bigelow's $250,000 libel suit against Clement T. Miniger, Toledo industrialist.

The action grew out of the campaign against Bigelow's constitutional amendment proposal to increase old age pensions in the 1939 election. Miniger, one of 12 defendants, filed a demurrer in common pleas court and appealed to the supreme court after the appellate court had held that Bigelow had grounds for libel action.

It was believed Bigelow would hesitate to press the action against the 11 other defendants, although the supreme court's decision does not affect them.

Margin Is Unchanged

Was So Nervous That She Would Walk The Floor At Night

Was Told An Operation Would Be Necessary But Use Of TONJON Saved Her From Operation. Before Using TONJON She Was So Sore She Couldn't Bear Bed-clothes To Touch Her.

MRS. MARY DUNFEE

The statement of Mrs. Mary Dunfee, 1017 Hazel St., East Liverpool, Ohio, is very interesting to anyone who suffers from any of the symptoms that bothered Mrs. Dunfee before she found relief in TONJON. Here is what she says:
"I was just completely worn out. I'd get up in the morning and would just have to go back to bed. My food wouldn't digest and my stomach was so sore that I couldn't bear even the bed clothing to touch it. Gas pains in my stomach were so severe that I would have to loosen my clothes. There was a pain between my shoulders that relentlessly lasted for weeks. I was so dizzy mornings and nights that I was compelled to hold to something for support. I was so nervous that I couldn't sleep at night and would have to get up and walk the floor."
"I was told that an operation would be necessary but the use of TONJON has saved me from one. This miraculous remedy has given me so much relief that now I can do my work and don't have to spend so much time in bed. I can eat anything I desire without after-distress. It has given me so much relief and comfort that I am very glad to be able to recommend it to the public. Every one who knows me comments on how much better I look and act."

Columbiana Team Ends Poor Season

COLUMBIANA, Nov. 13.—The Columbiana High school football team ended its most disastrous season in many years when East Palestine defeated the Red and White 6-0, the first time this feat had been accomplished in several years.

In the seven games played, only two touchdowns were scored, while Columbiana's opponents scored 259 points, the high mark being reached in the Louisville game, 73-0. However, only two players will be lost by graduation, Tom Gorchelt and Bill Hollinger, so that prospects are good for next year, when Coach Payne's youthful griders will have attained another year of growth. Coach Al Beach will start basketball practice very soon with prospects for a fair team.

Mrs. Irene Lippy moved Wednesday from the Esterly home on Vine st. to her recently purchased home on the same street. Mrs. Esther Edgerton and daughter moved into the rooms vacated by Mrs. Lippy.

The Women's Missionary society of the Lutheran church met at the church Wednesday afternoon. The lesson topic was "The Abundant Life Through Service."

Rev. Robert Mortenson, poet, preacher and singer of Collinswood, N. J., is conducting services at the Nazarene church each evening at 7:30.

French Chief Dead

Gen. Charles Huntziger, (above) French war minister, was killed in an airplane crash in southern France while en route to Vichy to confer with Marshal Petain on his inspection tour of north Africa. The general was one of the negotiators of the Franco-German armistice in June, 1940.

(By Associated Press)

LE VIGAN, UNOCCUPIED FRANCE, Nov. 13.—A briefcase containing papers General Charles Huntziger was bringing back from North Africa was found intact today beside the wreckage of the plane in which he and seven others were killed yesterday.

The papers apparently were thrown out by General Huntziger, minister of war in the Vichy government and commander of the French army, in an effort to save them.

Youths from a French camp said they saw the plane go into a tail spin in a snowstorm before it disappeared behind the trees.

Immediately afterward, the boys heard a violent explosion followed by another so strong that they could feel a rush of air.

Rescue squads extricated the burned bodies from the wreckage. The plane apparently was weighed down by ice after an abrupt temperature drop and a sudden shift in the wind.

In Vichy, Marshal Petain cancelled all appointments and flags were flown at half-staff.

terms in the Farrell city council, a two-year term beginning in 1931 and a four-year term in 1933. During his years as director of streets and public improvements, he was a leader in support of many city improvements, among which was the conversion of the city square from an eyesore to a beauty spot, now the Veterans' square.

His interest in the work did not end with his support of the project, but led him to do much of the work himself in the planting of trees and care of the square. He was instrumental in the construction of the remodeling and rewiring of the municipal building.

Active In War Work
Mr. Krauss was holder of a certificate from President Woodrow Wilson in appreciation of his services as a Mercer county, Pa., "Minute man" during the World war days.

He was active in affairs of the Liederkantz Singing society and was general chairman of the 16th annual national convention of the Transylvanian Saxon Singing society held in Farrell in 1938.

Surviving are three sons, John, Jr., Michael and Frederick of Detroit; five grandchildren; three brothers, George and Samuel of Salem and Michael of Detroit; and two sisters, Mrs. Fred Klose of Mercer-Jackson Center, Md., near Farrell, and Mrs. George Meiter of Salem.

VISITING GROUPS HEAR LINCOLNE

Delegations from Alliance, Damascus, Deerfield, and Beloit were in attendance last night as Rev. Foran Lincome delivered another message in the series of revival services which he is conducting at the First Friends church here.

"The Next Greatest Event In Your Life" was the subject of last night's talk in which he discussed the transition from life to death. "If people could be saved by funeral sermons," he said in part, "there would not be elbow room in heaven." He emphasized that character is the only basis of admission to Heaven and that character can't be had in a day.

Tonight's subject will be "The Unpardonable Sin." The evangelist will be assisted by Rev. Ralph Schuman of Sebring, who has been leading the music at the meetings.

NORTHWESTERN IS STUMBLING BLOCK FOR NOTRE DAME

Irish May Turn In First Unbeaten Record In 11 Years If Line Holds

(By Associated Press)
EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 13.—An 11-year gap in Notre Dame football fortunes challenges a little band of Fighting Irish who'll charge into Northwestern's tough Wildcats at Dwyer stadium next Saturday.
It's a far cry back to 1930. Knute Rockne and Notre Dame's last undefeated team, one which won 10 games and lost none. That team—and many before it—had reserve strength in every position, with Rockne using shock troops pulled from third, fourth and fifth elevens.
It's different with the 1941 Irish under Frank Leahy, who started practice with a comparatively slim half-hundred candidates. From that half-hundred Leahy culled some 20 players who've carried the load through seven games without defeat. And Notre Dame believes those players will be good enough to take the Northwestern hurdle before winding up with a triumph over Southern California next week.

Dry Field Favorites
Given a dry field, Notre Dame will be slight favorites to take Saturday's battle, to be played before a sell-out crowd of 48,000 fans.
A sophomore, Angelo Bertelli, already ranks as one of the greatest first-year passers in recent intercollegiate history. Through seven games he has completed 52 out of 89 tosses for 813 yards. He's had almost perfect protection, in some games getting as much as 8 to 10 seconds to spot his receivers. His biggest test will come Saturday—against Northwestern's line.

That Wildcat line is tough. It held Minnesota helpless on the Wildcat two yard marker. It's going to rush Bertelli Saturday as he's never been rushed before. And if this Wildcat line gets the jump on the Irish forwards, Otto Graham, Bill De Correvont, George Benson and Don Clawson may put a big hole in Notre Dame's dream of football empire.

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Looks as if the 1941 most valuable player awards won't be much help in getting Joe DiMaggio and Dolph Camilli pay raises next season.
DiMaggio is dragging down about as many chips now as the Yanks are willing to hand out and Brooklyn bosses aren't entirely sold on Camilli's hitting, especially when he goes into one of those slumps.
... DiMaggio told his San Francisco pals recently that he may ask $5,000 more because it costs a lot to bring up a child these days.

Perils of Predicting
After that Texas-Baylor tie last Saturday at Waco, Tex., was received at the Dallas Associated Press bureau. It said: "Understand man dropped dead at College Station. Please check an see if man was Jinx Tucker of News Tribune. He predicted Texas fifty. Baylor nothing, then went to College Station for S. M. U. game." ... According to the latest report Jinx had survived both the shock and his own efforts to explain.

Service Dept.
Fort Monmouth (N. J.) is willing to match its basketball schedule with any other service team when it comes to toughness. The signalmen have listed 18 games including such rivals as Long Island U., Rutgers, Scranton U., John Marshall and the Penn junior varsity.
... The boys at Fort Knox, Ky., claim Private Bob Fleming can do more with a dumb bell than a drill sergeant. He's a noted weight lifter.
Add soldiering ball-players: Bob Uhle, Detroit Tigers southpaw, now at Camp Grant, Ill., and Johnny Gerlach, formerly with the White Sox, St. Paul and Atlanta, training as an airman at Montgomery, Ala.

Distance Runners Meet
OBERLIN, O., Nov. 13.—The annual Ohio conference cross-country run will be held here Saturday with Oberlin, winner of the event 10 times in the last 13 years, rated as co-favorite with Case. At least three other conference schools, Ashland, Kenyon and Bowling Green, are expected to enter the race, which will finish between halves of the Oberlin-Denison football game.

BOWLING RESULTS

Standings remained the same in the first four places in the Pastime league after last night's bowling with the leading quartet of teams hanging up snout victories.
Albright's stayed in first with a win over the Eagles, scoring a 910 in their second game, the Citizens Ice stayed one game behind with a victory over the Elks for forfeit, the Gold Bar notched three over Bloomberg's, and Jackson's Service tallied a 2444 to sink London's Fords.

Other winners included Sponseller's over the Strop club and C. B. Hunt over the Salem Label, each by two games.
Masonic Ladies League
The league-leading Ohio Edison's walloped the cellar-dwelling Bankerettes in the Masonic Ladies league last night but the high score of the evening came in the second place Salem News two-game victory over Kresges, a 213 by Pauline in her third game.
Other winners included Stark's over Warks and Mullins over Brwnies also by two-game margins.

Seek Federal Aid In Conservation Program for Ohio

COLUMBUS, Nov. 13.—Federal approval was sought today for a plan of the state conservation division to establish "seed stock areas" throughout Ohio to raise deer and food for game.
The conservation commission appropriated $21,600 for the program, but the federal Pittman-Robertson act provides refunds to states of three-fourths of the amounts spent for trees, shrubs, grasses and grains to benefit wildlife.

The game management program indicates agreements with landowners to make tracts of two to 25 acres adjacent to sporting territory available for the seed stock plantings.
In some cases farm ponds might be constructed in the areas and where warranted wildlife species would be "planted."
Don Waters, state conservation commissioner, said the project would embrace every county in Ohio and eventually would extend to every township.

Farmers would benefit by having the balance of their lands posted as hunting by permit only and in many cases could harvest a fruit berry or nut crop, Waters asserted.
The legal limit of four each of deer, pheasants, quail, grouse, Hungarian partridge and rabbits may be posted until March 1, the commission ruled and Waters said.
Hecker and storage concerns would be asked to cooperate in preventing violation of the post-season possession privilege.

Veteran Zuppke, Newcomer Brown, Illini And Buck Pilots, Ex-High School Coaches

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 13.—Of course the brawny lads play the game but sometimes the football fan gets a kick out of watching the coaches too, and Saturdays Ohio State-Illinois game at Buckeye stadium will offer a "natural" bench drama.
On one side we'll have grizzled Robert C. (Bob) Zuppke, 62 years, whose Illinois teams have won 131 games, lost 79 and tied 12. As a youth "Zupp" was too small to make a Western conference football team at Wisconsin.

Across the field from him 33-year-old Paul E. Brown will sit (and stand) as he nurses his Buckeye team through his seventh big time contest, his record five won and one lost. The peppy but slender Brown also didn't pack enough weight to play big time football although his quarterbacking made him a standout at Miami university.
It was way back in 1913 that the University of Illinois called Zuppke to guide its grid teams after he had attracted attention by high school coaching at Muskegon, Mich., and Oak Park, Ill.

Twenty-eight years later Ohio State put Brown in the driver's seat because Massillon, O., High school under Brown had won 81 games, lost six and tied two.
So perhaps the boys on the field won't get all the attention from the expected crowd of 45,000.

Predict Line Changes

Scullion Is Slated To See Action In Saturday's Game

The big news from the local football camp today was that Bob "Scubby" Scullion, injured Salem backfield star and leading ground gainer of the Quakers would see action in Saturday's fray with the Lisbon High Blue Devils.
Scullion was injured in the game at Wellsville and did not see action when the locals met Youngstown South, Niles, and Alliance. His injured knee has steadily improved and he'll be back at his post at Lisbon.

Another change in the Salem lineup will be the more active use of Hammerin' Harry Ehrhart at left halfback. The 115-pound former manager has impressed Coach Ray Overturf with his shifty running and effective interference during practice sessions and the coach is responding with a bigger assignment for the bantam ball-toter.

The rest of the Salem lineup will go in practically unchanged: Priddy and King at ends, Weigand and Huffing or Thomas at tackles, Shastons and Ellis at guards, and Guappone or Hrvatin at center. Hrvatin has been shifted from the quarter and right halfback slots to the middle of the line during the week's drills but may see action at either, or both, places.

In addition to Scullion and Ehrhart at left half, Entriken is expected to see service at this post.

Culberson will take over the quarterback slot, Nocera or Hagan will be at right half and Johnny "Faithful" Volio will be at full.

AGREE TO FIGHT ON JAN. 9 AT N. Y. FOR NAVAL RELIEF

Champ Donates Services Puts Title On Block, In Charity Brawl

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis, who has been paid princely sums for fighting, but his wage scale is sliding to the vanishing point.
Within a few weeks he will be inducted into the army to fight if necessary, for $21 a month, now he has agreed to fight for Navy for nothing.

A 15-round title bout between the champion and Buddy Baer, the big Californian he beat in 12 rounds last spring, was announced last night for Jan. 9 in Madison Square Garden.
The profit will go to the Navy auxiliary of the Navy Relief society and Louis will receive more than his expense in staking his heavy weight crown, the most valuable bauble in sports.

Rear Admiral Adolphus Andrews, commander of the third naval district and commander of the North Atlantic naval coastal frontier, announced the match, which was arranged for him by Promoter Mike Jacobs.

Aside from the fact that Louis will be donating his services, the financial arrangements for the champion's 20th defense of his title were not disclosed.

But Anell Hoffman, Boer's manager, said in Sacramento, Calif., that Buddy would receive the customary challenger's percentage after taxes and a 10 per cent cut for the Navy had been taken off the top. In the past Louis' managers have received from 12 to 20 per cent.

The previous brawl between Louis and Baer, 217-pound brother of madcap Maxie, the former champion, was staged at Washington last May 23 and ended by Buddy being disqualified by Referee Arthur Dwyer because his handlers wouldn't leave the ring for the start of the seventh round.

pected to see service at this post. Culberson will take over the quarterback slot, Nocera or Hagan will be at right half and Johnny "Faithful" Volio will be at full.
